Hello friends! I'm glad u enjoyed my last thread on esoteric Chris-Chanity! The story has developed some since then, and it has been justly pointed out I focused more on occultism than conspiracy. So come on, let's investigate the abyss this tale verges on, Chris-Chanspircy.

Where were you when you first saw the name Chris Chan? I know where I was, it was 2011, I was 14, and I was on Encyclopedia Dramatica. Their article on Chris is what kicked his whole saga off all the way back in 2007. How far we've come.

So, ED was founded in the early 2000s by Girlvynil, noted US Department of Energy counterintelligence officer (who, precipitously, holds a "Q" clearance).

I've previously held a Top Secret or "Q" clearance and would be comfortable holding a federal government clearance again.

A little odd no? ED's cultural cachet cannot be overstated, it's the link between the truly old-school web 1.0 culture though to 4chan/somethingawful/kiwifarms, all the way to the present day. Anything trollish, anarchic, fun, cruel, "extremely online", etc exists in it's shadow.

We'll get into what came out of this in a bit, but let's think about the inchoate forces which fed into it. The obvious progression is back to Livejournal, earlier than that Usenet, then back to ARPANET. Skipped a few steps maybe, but the intangible aspects track.

1 1 0 53

As cuttlefish points out, the mindgames and petty tortures honed in newsgroups and homemade blogs became the genesis for the very concept of social networking.

Stories lost to time. My own dad was big into usenet, and, tellingly, his favorite story is about.. trolling. He'd ask boomer farmers "if their town had an elevator" on alt.agriculture, and then laugh at them when they said yes (meaning a grain elevator, no tall buildings)

Subject: Putting a label that says "Loading..." while a swing applet is loading

Hi, I have a swing applet that takes about 30 seconds to load (it has to connect to a RMI component, which in turn connects to a CORBA component, so it takes time). While it is loading, I want to put a label on the applet that says "Loading...". I instantiate a JLabel and call getContentPane().Add(), right before I do the long work, but it doesn't show up. I think it's because Swing doesn't paint it until everything is done. I called repaint, but it didn't either work. Any suggestions?

Thank,
 Cham

But there was a cruel side, a side so bleak it's rarely seen anymore. Maybe on some messed up discord or something, but social networks feel "cleaner". There isn't an alt.suicide.holiday on 4chan.

Hi! I'm an Asian female and 24 years old. I like your method of death.
I could bring along plastic bags. I've had experience with the plastic bag and pill method, though it wasn't effective in my case (read the post "Help me die..."). I don't have any access to the pills either, but I know of a scam that could give us access. I have already given away all my belongings and wrote my will. I currently live in Oakland, California. Where are you located? I am ready to die within the month.

Sincerely,
selfdeath@aol.com

And again, Cuttlefish is right on the money as to where this came from. Let's think about Synanon, a notoriously violent and abusive cult that was huge in California/early Silicon Valley, and to some extent still exists.

1 4 0 67

Saturnalia "Ultimate Survivor" Sundown @SaturnaliaSund1

Aug 13

Born out of pseudoscientific drug treatment methods, Synanon billed itself as a modern alternative to stuff like Alcoholics Anonymous. Their methods though, were essentially identical to trauma-based mind control, eerily reminiscent of MK-program tactics employed in the same area

A truly mindblowing number of celebrities and business/tech figures were all in attendance, whether to cure alcoholism/drug abuse, or worse, sent as children. Pictured is Henry Miller, who's whole Big Sur/Esalen Institute vibe would directly inform the Silicon Valley mindset.

1 1 0 58

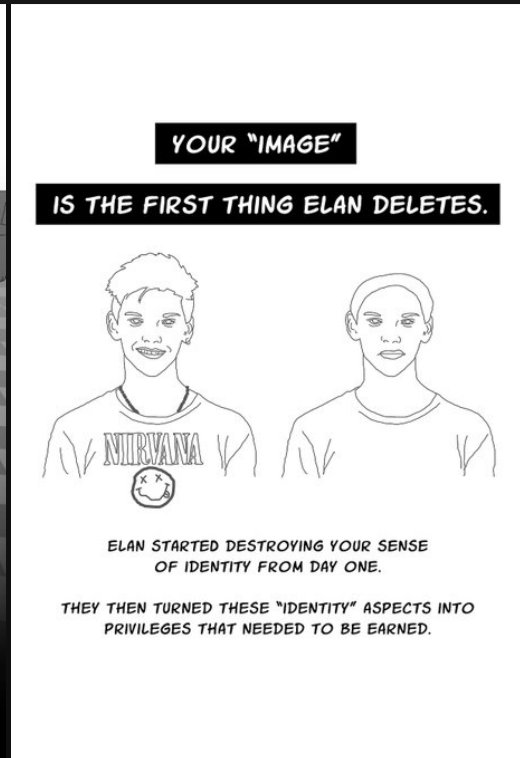

Saturnalia "Ultimate Survivor" Sundown @SaturnaliaSund1

Aug 13

Synanon propagated itself by setting up "therapeutic boarding schools" or

"troubled teen" camps all across the US, many of which are still in operation. The infamous Elan School was one of these.

As a kid in Utah (where many of the current schools are located) I heard urban legends about these. Do a minor crime, instead of going to juvie, samoans (lol) would come to your house in the middle of the night, basically kidnap you. It's kinda true!

So, Synanon's tactic for privatized MK-Ultra? First, gathering vast amounts of information about you, hopes, fears, shames, etc. Then, "The Game", aka "general meeting". Like a Maoist struggle session, one scapegoat would be singled out to be verbally harrassed and beaten.

SYNANON HAD A HIERARCHY SIMILAR TO ELAN'S.

LOWER RANKS SPENT TIME OUTSIDE OF THE GAME DOING MANUAL LABOR WHILE BEING HAZED AND MONITORED BY THE HIGHER RANKS. SYNANON EVEN USED THE SAME ELAN TITLES LIKE EXPEDITOR AND COORDINATOR.

JOINING SYNANON MEANT CUTTING OFF ALL COMMUNICATION TO FRIENDS AND FAMILY.

UNTIL YOU "EARNED IT".

THE GAME ALLOWED THE SYNANON LEADERSHIP TO COLLECT THE OPINIONS OF COMMUNITY MEMBERS, AS WELL AS THEIR LIFE STORIES.

SOON, THEY KNEW EVERYTHING ABOUT YOU. AND EVERYONE ELSE.

IT TOOK A WHILE FOR ME TO COMPREHEND THE ELAN RITUAL KNOWN AS A "GENERAL MEETING". HERE ARE SOME OF THE THINGS I EVENTUALLY FIGURED OUT.

ANATOMY OF AN ELAN SCHOOL GENERAL MEETING

FIFTY - SIXTY TEENS SCREAMED IN YOUR FACE. FOUR OR FIVE COULD GO AT A TIME.

YOU COULD ONLY SCREAM IF YOU FIT IN THE WIDTH OF THE BROOMSTICK

(OTHERS WAITED FOR A SPOT TO OPEN)

Ominous then, given the hazy lineage of substance abuse institute mind-control to internet culture, that 4chan's name field defaults to Anonymous. Same goes for the poorly understood and often spoofed hacker group, was this an accident?

1 2 0 53

Saturnalia "Ultimate Survivor" Sundown @SaturnaliaSund1

Aug 13

Speaking of Anonymous, let's turn our gaze to what emerged from ED. I'm sure you remember the Chanology protests of 2007. Started by ED cofounder OIdirtyBtard. Note strange resonance of cult tactics vs cult tactics, ED/4chan/SA drama crew vs Scientology.

1 1 0 51

Saturnalia "Ultimate Survivor" Sundown @SaturnaliaSund1 Aug 13

I'd contend this internet crowdsourced protest movement drew more attention than most assume, I think it's fair to speculate that this provided a regime change blueprint still directly applied today.

1 1 0 54

Saturnalia "Ultimate Survivor" Sundown @SaturnaliaSund1 Aug 13

One just has to turn to the next big "extremely online" protest movements, say, those against the SOPA, PIPA, and ACTA bills. As a young /x/-browsing lolbertarian these were particularly special to me, but in retrospect they loom sinister.

While on the surface it's organization seemed authentically grassroots, it doesn't take much pondering to realize they were organized with hard power and big money from the beginning.

3 1 0 54

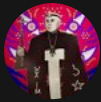

Saturnalia "Ultimate Survivor" Sundown @SaturnaliaSund1

Aug 13

The NGO complex funding and coordinating the movement goes deep. The Electronic Frontier Foundation obviously played a critical role via funding. While their story is again too long to recount, few organizations glow as hard as they do.

Their founder John Perry Barlow's influence over the internet cannot be overstated, finger in every pot. Curious then, how he's been adjacent to intel ops since the 60's via the Grateful Dead, all the way up to providing "advisory" services to the CIA until his death.

We'll get back to them later, let's look at the direct coordinators of the protests, "Fight for the Future". No surprise, if you even cursorily follow their funding it ends up in the same place as 9/10 powerful nonprofits, the Ford Foundation, Arabella Advisors, the Mellon family
